

G9 2024 LIVE: Grant proposal writing

Wed, May 22, 2024 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM CEST

Show in My Time Zone

Successful grant writing is both an art and a science and in this webinar we try and simplify Grant Proposal writing for you. Successful grant writing is both an art and a science. In this webinar we will outline the process, help you understand the parts of a Request for Proposal (RFP) and explain what to consider while drafting your Grant Proposal. We explain how to identify the right funders for your research and look at Grant databases; providing guidelines on how to seek and access the right Grant Fund.

About our expert:

Roger Watson, Professor and Editor-in-Chief of Nurse Education in Practice

Editor-in-Chief of Nurse Education in Practice (Elsevier), Academic Dean in the School of Nursing at the Southwest Medical University, China, Authored over 500 Publications. Roger has over 30 years of experience in academic writing and publishing. He has been an advocate for the use of AI in academic publishing and has recently coauthored a blog post on the official website of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) which discusses the benefits and challenges of using generative AI tools such as ChatGPT in scholarly communication and has emphasized the need for ethical considerations and transparency when using AI in publishing. He is the Editor-in-Chief of Nurse Education in Practice and former Editor-in-Chief of Journal of Advanced Nursing. His other current affiliations also include the President of the National Conference of University Professors (2022-2024) and Editorial Board Member of the WikiJournal of Medicine. He also has honorary faculty and visiting positions in Australia, Ireland, Saudi Arabia, and China. In 2022, Roger has been conferred with the Margaret Comerford Freda award for Editorial Leadership in Nursing Publication by the International Academy of Nursing Editors.

